Short description of the institution	Libertas Business School is a private institution of higher education which is, according to the Bologna declaration and Croatian legislation, accredited to carry out professional study programmes in accordance with the “three plus two” cycle, i.e. a three-year undergraduate professional study programme, followed by a two-year specialist graduate professional study programme. Libertas Business School closely observes the needs the economy and offers study programmes that can meet the needs of the labour market, which is confirmed by the high employability of its students, a large number of companies that send their employees to our business school. Numerous trading companies, banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions offer to their employees scholarships for Libertas study programmes. Besides number of banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions, trading companies, international forwarding and transport agencies, commodity terminals, container depots, and other large Croatian companies have signed a cooperation agreement with Libertas which provides our students with an opportunity to do their fieldwork

	in them. Cooperation between Libertas Business School and Croatian companies enables our students to study and acquire professional knowledge through real work experience. Furthermore, as our partner companies can offer jobs to our best students while they are still studying, they can get the opportunity to start working as soon as they finish their studies, which is one of our school's main aims. Libertas Business School programmes are based on an original and innovative approach to knowledge acquisition. They are aligned with the needs of the economy and the most up-to-date expertise and scientific knowledge. Undergraduate professional and specialist graduate professional study programmes are based on acquisition of practical knowledge and skills which are in line with the courses syllabi of top professional business school abroad, where the same or similar types of future professionals in business economics are being educated.
