

Fundamental Rights at the Frontier of the European Union

Jean Monnet Project

Ieva Rācenāja
Director

Justīne Elferte
Head of International Department

RIGA
GRADUATE
SCHOOL OF
LAW

APPLICATION PROCESS

Preparatory work :

- Collecting previous experience with EU projects.
- Collecting CVs of key academic personnel – do not be shy and include the full list of achievements and publications.
- Penciling down dates for the project with required key speakers if project proposal goes through
- Have a quick-response plan in place on how to implement the project if it is given approval as the decision on awarding may arrive relatively late.
- Plan for bureaucracy!

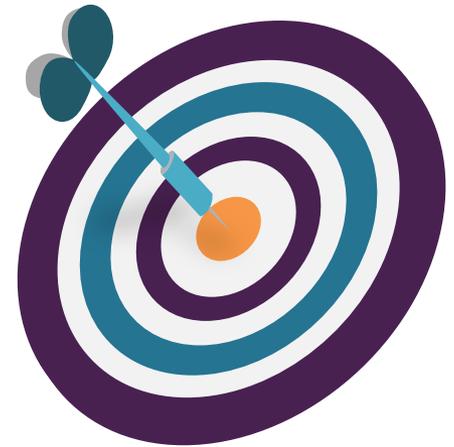

APPLICATION MUST HAVES

- ✓ Project proposal covered 2/3 project categories:
 - ✓ “innovation” projects
 - ✓ “cross-fertilisations” projects
 - ✓ “spread content” projects

- ✓ Something old and something new
 - ✓ Previously established partnerships have been emphasized
 - ✓ Partnerships which are intended to shine upon the implementation of the project

- ✓ “Uniqueness” factor
 - ✓ Two unlikely spheres of competence merged together
 - ✓ The “uniqueness” factor suggests that the third category of the project proposals could also be covered

CHALLENGES, BENEFITS FOR THE INSTITUTION and OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

- The project allows for almost too much flexibility on the required additional activities
 - Some strict categories which are automatically calculated
 - Others with relative flexibility
- Prestige and recognition for the institution of higher education
- Internal quality control mechanisms on top of the required reporting by the agreement
- Small team working on the project
- Live streaming and other bonuses
- Flexibility- anything can go wrong.

Consumer Protection and Fundamental Rights

Competition, Big Data and Fundamental Rights

Constitutional Law and Fundamental Rights

Fundamental Rights at the Frontier of the European Union

4 CONFERENCES

RIGA
GRADUATE
SCHOOL OF
LAW

Fundamental Rights at the Frontier of the European Union

Jean Monnet Project

Ieva Rācenāja
Director

Justīne Elferte
Head of International Department

RIGA
GRADUATE
SCHOOL OF
LAW

