Dear Reader,

We all know that Human Resources should have an important capacity to insure the implementation of goals to perk up business performances.

As adults, we learn through experience the most effectively. Learning in small groups in a safe and relaxing environment, utilizing symbols and other learning tools are nowadays necessities to improve practical skills, competencies and attitudes. To meet demands, we have developed a training method along with a collection of training programs built on international standards, tailored to the traditions and needs of the Hungarian market.

Our team of professional trainers and advisors of Soter Line Education Center have come and/or are working in the competitive sector. With their help your business can set in motion your hidden resources while teach your staff how to renew, self-develop on its own in the future. Taking an active part in the making of a better prepared and committed staff for companies we could help you to meet the daily challenges of work and contribute to the effectiveness of your business.

We offer trainings in the areas of management competencies, communication, teambuilding, sales, conflict-resolution and customer service.

Training programs - conducted in both in Hungarian and English - are built on an interactive workshop format, using case-studies and other progressive methods.

We prepare our individualized programs to integrate western management techniques applicable to the Hungarian business standards, and provide systematic support to the management via the improvement of skills.

/ED OAKLEY/

EFFECTIVE LEARNING METHODS

WE OFFER MODERN COMPANY SOLUTIONS

We prefer interactive methods where trainees become active participants, so they can affect the flow of the training.

Trainees discover - similarly to the school of life - connections and make real the instinctively well or badly applied methods by solving problems and life-like situations so that they are able to choose the most effective tools for their everyday work.

If participants solve the problems themselves and so learn how they should handle realistic situations, then on one hand, the imprinting will be more intensive and, on the other hand, the proper change of behavior will be more remarkable.

EFFECTIVE TRAINING METHODS

- Practice oriented programs ensuring the skill improvement of individuals with the help of variable methods.
- One person, pair work, small group and whole group exercises.
- Situation exercises, case studies, the analyses of professional problems and difficult situations where participants face during their work.
- Well planned games make programs colorful and relaxed.
- We support the learning process with different visual effect and handouts.

TECHNIQUES INCREASING THE EFFECTIVENESS OF TRAININGS

- Personalized, professional feed-backs.
- Preparation of individual development programs.
- Action plan prepared at the end of certain programs motivate participants to put the acquired knowledge and skills into practice.

BUT WHAT HE BECOMES BY IT.”

RANGE OF TRAININGS ADJUSTED TO YOUR COMPANY NEEDS

Company trainings

Open trainings or personalized trainings

COMPANY TRAININGS

Programs adjusted to the profiles of businesses, which can be a single occasion or multiple occasion continuous trainings. We put together custom made programs based on the needs and the actual tasks and plans of the company.

We pay great attention to your company goals, along with the need of participants and your expectations of the outcome. After the training and the practical "apply it the real life" type activities we offer an opportunity to evaluate the learned materials, ask questions and receive further help with the integration and application of the material.

OPEN TRAININGS OR PERSONALIZED TRAININGS

We offer open or personalized trainings where we accept participants from any companies and businesses. We hold these trainings at a prescheduled time and location. These trainings are open for the public thus usually have the representatives of several companies at the same time.

The goal of this open or personalized trainings is to help those small firms and businesses where the need for training only present for one or two employees at the time or for some reasons there is no chance to hold trainings for a larger group at a certain field.

WHAT WE GUARANTEE

In methodology, content and dynamics, Soter-Line trainings have traditionally been flexible. Carefully adjusting to your business goals and to the needs of the participants we are committed to build long term partnerships. Our goal is to fit in with the lifecycle of your business, to provide you with new insights to the capacity of your human resource. We offer our trainees practical, applicable skills enhancing awareness and problem solving. Using periodic follow ups on various forms we are interested in insuring long term progress and efficiency for your business.

TRAINING CONSTRUCT AND STRUCTURE

PLANNING

First of all we define the expectations and needs of clients then analyze the target group of the training.

BUILDING THE METHODS OF THE TRAINING

After analyzing the received information, we set forth the thematics and methods. If it is required we present the methodology construct to the heads of the business or appointed colleagues. We synthesize their observations and suggestions into the given training.

THE EXECUTION OF TRAINING

We conduct the training on the location of your choice. In the case of two three days trainings we collect the observations of the participants after the first day and adapt and synthesize the received information into the second and third day program as well.

In the end of the program both verbally and in written form we have the participants evaluate the methods, the material and the trainers through our custom made questioners.

FOLLOW-UP

After the training has been conducted for a certain time we continue to assess the practical applicability of learned skills, how participants were able to integrate new skills in their every day work. A few month after the training we recommend a "brushing up" session to our business partners, where the participants give account of their experiences, talk about results and successes along with the challenges they continue to face.

We recommend follow-up trainings quarterly to make sure the upkeep and the optimal retention of knowledge and to remedy potential challenges. During these follow-up sessions we focus on existing company specific situations and applications, through which the effectiveness of our trainings extend to the desired level.
